- 308. #308 - Bushido Virtues Plaque $405
 - Bushido Virtues Plaque: 12" x 42 1/2"
 In Japanese tradition, Bushido is a term which translates "way of the warrior". Many samurai devoted their lives to bushido, a strict code that demanded loyalty and honor to the death. If a samurai failed to uphold his honor he could regain it by committing seppuku (ritual suicide).
 Bushido is an internally-consistent ethical code. In its purest form, it demands of its practitioners that they look effectively backward at the present from the moment of their own death, as if they were already, in effect, dead. This is particularly true of the earlier forms of Bushido or budo. Of later forms, traditionalists would scoff, "they reason with staying alive kept clearly in mind." There are 7 virtues associated with Bushido: rectitude (right decisions), courage, benevolence, respect, honest, honor and loyalty.

- 330. #330 - Birds' Dance Photograph $420
 - This photograph of the birds' dance was taken in Ranthambore National Park in Rajasthan, India. I was traveling with a group of photographers who were focusing their attention on the tigers when I was struck by the beauty of the moment; I looked up, and this is what I captured. October 25, 2008 -
 This photograph was printed by hand on 100% Cotton Rag paper with Pigment Archival Inks.
 Ever since I can remember, I have had a camera in my hand. What started as photographing landscapes and sunsets, capturing the contrast and shadows they cast, has led me to pursue a career in photography.
 After graduating from Colorado College in 2006 with a BA in Hispanic Studies, I followed my heart and traveled to Tanzania to volunteer at a day care and an orphanage. Throughout my three months as a volunteer I realized the amazing access I had with the villagers I was living with and captured their lives with my camera. I was granted access into someone's life that a regular tourist would not experience.
 Upon returning from Tanzania, I decided to take my love of photography and study what was once just a hobby. In the summer of 2007, I enrolled as a Summer Resident at the Maine Media Workshops, immersing myself in a 12-week intensive course. I had the opportunity to study under renowned photographers Alison Shaw, Bob Krist, Bob Sacha, Jay Dickman, John Isaac and Joyce Tenneson.
 Having assisted many photographers in their studios or on location, my latest achievement was assisting my mentor John Isaac on two photographic workshops to Kashmir and Rajasthan India in October 2008, resulting in an exhibit at the Maine Media Workshops Gallery at Union Hall in August 2009 and private exhibit at Ouisie's Table in Houston, Texas in the spring of 2010.
 Currently, I live in San Francisco and am available for freelance work, private digital photography lessons and workshops.
